Part 1

What Can Leo Expect in April?

Dear Leo, April is a month of wisdom and knowledge for you. It's a month of great lessons and big updates of your beliefs. You are also getting over something. It can be anything that's been very important to you, something you've wanted to achieve for a long time may not have the same strength anymore and you feel free from it. This is not something that you're still passionate about. This is something that's been a burden to you. You are not doing it anymore. You're done with it.

You are socially fulfilled this month and you're visiting many places and connecting with beautiful people, with beautiful souls on many levels. You are using your skills in many ways and your multi-talented nature is recognized by others. Your thoughts are refreshed and there are some thought patterns that may explode during this time in order to be dissolved. You are changing the way of expressing your thoughts and the way you process thoughts and emotions.

On the 3rd of April Mercury enters your fellow fixed sign Taurus and joins Uranus, North node and Venus in your tenth house of career, profession, vocation, success, reputation, social status, contribution, authority figures, father figures and father. This area of your life has been highlighted and accentuated for a long time and you've done a lot of work in this area of your life, but it's not finished yet when it comes to big transitions and shake ups. Of course, as long as Uranus is here it will be shaky and challenging, but also very awakening and liberating in your career, in your relationship with your father, in things related to your success and public image.

Mercury also goes retrograde here in your tenth house on the 21st of April and will be retrograde until the 15th of May. Mercury is direct during the first three weeks of April and Venus is also here during the first eleven days of the month. Expect supportive business conversations, contracts, deals, agreements, plans and ideas for achieving your goals, concrete ideas and plans. You are investing in your career now and with Mercury here you will probably be learning more about things that you're doing, learning about career, learning more about the role that you want to play in the world, learning how to be of service.

When Mercury stations retrograde you will have enough time to reevaluate and reconsider your career, your life path, your way of doing things that you do. You are questioning your professional life. You are questioning your role in the world and you will be fixing and correcting things related to your public persona and your relationship with your father perhaps. You will have a second chance for something in your tenth house matters. Second chance for career success, second chance for making things right with a certain authority figure, second chance for achieving certain goals that you're passionate about.

The Sun enters Taurus on the 20th of April, one day prior to Mercury's retrograde walk. The Sun is here to help you and enlighten your life path, to show you what needs to be done, to show you the way. The Sun represents authority, father, power, ego, willingness and with the Sun in the tenth house in the sign of Taurus, you will have a very strong willingness to pursue your goals, to pursue your role and to contribute in the way you want to contribute.

Mercury makes a square aspect to Pluto in Aquarius on the 3rd of April too and this energy can bring you some tension and possible conflict with a partner that is related to your work, your employment, your career. Authority figures play a very important role in your life now and you may get in conflict with someone who has some kind of power, someone who is dominant but you're also going to resolve things with this person and to make things work out in the right way. This is actually something that serves you now and this conflict or disagreement can lead you towards something that can turn out to be a blessing in disguise.

On the 6th of April there's a Full Moon in Libra, shining a light in your third house of everyday connections and communications. Expect emotional conversations, important conversations, things coming to light through conversations. Expect news and messages that reveal something to you. You are connecting with people and exchanging ideas and stories. Pay attention to messages and words you hear or read in your everyday life during this time.

Synchronicities are strong and what you're thinking about may be manifested quickly. Things are coming to a fruition, things you've been working on. You may go on a short trip where you learn something significant, something that changes your thought patterns, something that makes you think differently, something that changes your perspective. Your relationships with younger brothers and sisters are significant now too, with relatives, with neighbors, with people from your local community. You may do something with these people now, your role in the local community may be significant.

This is the energy of learning and teaching and you may learn something that strongly affects your way of thinking and your way of communicating with others. The ruler of this Full Moon is Venus and she's in the tenth house of father, career, reputation and life direction. So, this energy can also show you something you didn't know before related to your father, your career, your contribution and life path.

On the 11th of April Venus enters Gemini and shines a light in your social eleventh house of friendships, groups of people, social circles, team work, communities, networking and also your hopes, dreams and wishes, your desires. This is an amazing energy for your social life, your friends, your friendships, your love life too. You are socially busy in a beautiful way. Venus here brings you a connection with beautiful souls, with people who are charming and charismatic. You are involved in many different communities and groups of people since this is Gemini energy.

You are in many places with many different people. If you have some kind of community you are going to see its growth now. Venus is also a planet of values and finances so she can bring you money and earnings through your communities, your fans, your clients if you have them. You are enjoying time spent with friends. You are celebrating things with others in a beautiful way. You are enjoying good times. You are enjoying good food in good company. It is very good energy and Venus makes a trine with Pluto too.

Pluto is in your seventh house of one-on-one relationships and this energy can bring you improvements in relationships, beautiful encounters, harmonious partnerships and comfort through your relationships. This is very lucky and benevolent energy for you and you can definitely expect great things through your friendships and communities, through your relationships and collaborations. Venus will be here until the 7th of May.

On the same day when Venus enters Gemini, there's another significant aspect happening and that is the conjunction between the Sun and Jupiter. The Sun shines a light on Jupiter while Jupiter expands the rays of the Sun and enriches its expression. This is a very powerful combination and it brings you courage, motivation, willpower and decisiveness. This happens in your fellow Fire sign Aries, shining a light in your ninth house of long distance travels, international connections, international business journeys, adventures, education, higher education, graduation, studying, learning, teaching, advertising, marketing, publishing, launching.

This is a place of wisdom and higher meaning, spiritual pursuits and higher knowledge, higher mind and higher self. This is a search for truth. This is about self-knowledge and self-realization. Sun and Jupiter together here bring you golden opportunities and possibilities for achieving great things in these ninth house matters. This energy has already been active strongly in March. You are gaining more wisdom and knowledge that can set you free. You are changing your beliefs in a way that you are free from things you thought are good for you perhaps.

There are certain beliefs that can seem as very productive and useful, but some of them may turn out to be totally imprisoning actually and you're freeing yourself from those kinds of limiting beliefs. This Aries energy is extremely strong this month too and that's not only because of the Sun and Jupiter's conjunction, but because there's a Solar Eclipse happening here too this month and this is the first Eclipse in 2023. Eclipse happens on the 20th of April and this is the second New Moon in a row that happens in the sign of Aries. So, these themes have already been strong last month and now they become even more evident and enhanced.

Eclipses are intense and life-changing events. You may be traveling now or planning a long distance trip. International connections are powerful and there are karmic connections with people who live in different countries, who come from different cultures, religions, nationalities and beliefs. Expect life-changing connections with people, especially with foreigners. Your beliefs are changing in a very transformative way too. Some of you may begin a very passionate spiritual journey now. You are inspired by spiritual teachings in a magnificent way. You may start studying something very significant. You are hungry for knowledge and wisdom and this hunger will unlock many new and different paths for you.

Mars is in Cancer this whole month and this activates your twelfth house. You may have a bit of trouble sleeping and resting. Mars is restless in the twelfth house and also in the sign of Cancer. It cannot express itself in the best way. This is active energy that wants to express itself outward, that wants to do things. It is energetic and it gets things done. Twelfth house is about resting, relaxing, dreaming, fantasizing, imagining, visualizing, singing, dancing, meditating, being, diving deep into the ocean of yourself, exploring your depths and subconscious realms.

So, it is truly powerful if you put your energy and efforts into these kinds of things, into spiritual work, into learning how to take a rest, how to relax, into finding some time to be on your own. You are putting energy into subtle energies. You are accumulating energy. Taking a walk in nature every day could be the best thing that you can do for yourself, your vitality, your health, your drive, your motivation and willingness.

This is the best time for meditating, clearing your mind, spending time near water, looking at the sea or any water surface, lakes, rivers or oceans, observing the waves regardless of how small or big they are, listening to the sound of water, listening to the sound of birds, being active in nature, in meditation, in understanding yourself and your reactions, actions and intentions.

Part 2

Leo Relationships With Inner Self

Dear Leo, you are exploring the journey of your soul now and you are interested in learning more about karma, about different dimensions, about how you come into this life, how you leave this life, what is this life, what are dreams, how do you dream, how do you think, how do you speak, how do you breathe. These are very deep and key questions actually but they get lost in everyday life. They become less important in life full of obligations and work. These kinds of questions and thoughts wake up your intuitive center. These kinds of thoughts activate the right hemisphere of the brain and your codes of spirit and soul.

You are thinking about the soul and the spirit. What is the soul? What is the spirit? Where do you feel them? How do you feel them? You are examining these questions. You are searching for wisdom. You are asking what is wisdom? Who are wise people? What you can learn from them? Do they exist? Where are they? What do wise people do? Some of you may connect with a spiritual teacher now. You may connect with someone who can have that kind of influence on you.

Your ninth house is very strong and active this month and you have Jupiter here together with Chiron and the Sun and then you have the New Moon Solar Eclipse happening here. These are blessings in these areas of your life, spiritual blessings, blessings through knowledge and wisdom, blessings through spiritual teachers and people who feel like spiritual teachers. You also have Mars in your twelfth house of meditation, contemplation, relaxation, spiritual journey, transcendence, liberation, oneness, unity, altered states, withdrawal, retreat and self-healing.

Mars is here the whole month and you are going to feel that energy that is turned towards these subtle things, these invisible and unknown things, these subconscious things. Subconsciousness is like an invisible monster, the unknown and dark place that we know nothing about. The passage is narrow but the space is infinite. Subconsciousness can be scary and ugly, hard to deal with if you look at it from the perspective of learned behavior. But, this month you're out of learned behavior. You're busting the learned behavior. You're revealing what is learned behavior and this can be shocking for some of you because you didn't know how much of your personality is built upon those learned behaviors.

Everything is consensus in this world and everyone leaves according to those rules and regulations that are aligned with the collective, with what is acceptable, what is considered to be “normal”, what is moral or immoral, what is good or bad. You are breaking free from many of those learned agreements, laws and rules. So, subconsciousness is something that becomes your obsession perhaps this month. You may have a very strong need to learn and explore subconsciousness, to see how it works, how it functions, where it is, what it hides, what it holds, what it reveals. You are interested in deeper mental processes and you will be inspired by your own material, your own mental field.

Part 3

Leo Relationships With Others

Dear Leo, you have beautiful events and connections with people this whole month. Your relationships are glowing and you can expect harmonious relationships, help and support from others, comforting people and conversations, valuable friendships and precious new meetings or reconnections. You have Full Moon this month in your third house of siblings, relatives, neighbors, local community and random people you meet in your everyday life. These connections will be significant around the time of the Full Moon and some things may be brought to light now in your social life. Something can culminate and it should be something good since this Full Moon is in sextile aspect with your sign.

This is Libra Full Moon and Libra is an Air sign. Air and Fire collaborate very well together and this can bring you amazing manifestations in your social life. Expect support from your siblings and those who feel like them. Expect something emotional and liberating with your relatives or with your neighbors too. It's all about relationships during this Full Moon and actually this whole month is very strong when it comes to relationships of all kinds.

Pluto has just entered your opposite sign of Aquarius in March and Venus enters Gemini on the 11th of April and highlights your eleventh house of friends, communities and groups of people. Venus in your eleventh house is a very powerful social transit, very beautiful and uplifting. You are connecting with people from different communities. Your team work is going well. You feel supported by others. You feel love between you and others. You feel support and beauty in your relationships. You are enjoying good times with people. Your social life is rich and worthy. You feel beautiful in the company of others.

You are reminded of true values in friendships and relationships, of true worth, of what's precious and what counts. You are visiting concerts with friends, going out, having a drink, having dinner. You are invited to parties or you prepare a gathering at your place. You enjoy good times with others, good food, good drinks, quality time with people, quality conversations, quality moments. With Venus here, you are involved in many different social circles and you can connect different types of people. You can play an important role in connecting others in a significant way.

Some of you may be correcting and renewing your relationship with your father or with father figures in your life, with dominant people in your life. Mercury will be retrograde in your tenth house of father and authority figures and you may experience some kind of conflict or disagreement with a boss or with father, with mother, with anyone who has that role of authority in your life. And you have a chance to renew and rejuvenate that relationship, to improve it. Your international connections are shining brightly.

Your relationships with foreigners, with people who live overseas are really golden and they are inspiring and uplifting. You are inspired by these connections and some of you may travel and connect with amazing human beings, with amazing souls. This month is like a jewel in your social world and you can really feel a sense of abundance through connecting with people, with communities, with individuals who think differently and live differently.

Part 4

Leo Love & Romantic Life In April

Dear Leo, you are finding and recognizing love everywhere, in everything, in everyone, in yourself and in nature, in other people, in your family, in your neighborhood, in your friends, in your home, on the street, in your dreams. You are seeing love everywhere and this brings you a special feeling of being one with everything, of feeling that oneness. Even when you feel down, even when bad things happen, even if you fail in things in life, love guides you and carries you when you allow it to guide you and carry you. You are attracting love in your life now and your love relationships look good too.

There is only one possible tricky thing at the very beginning of the month and that is the square between Mercury and Pluto that happens on the 3rd of April. Pluto is now in your seventh house of relationships, marriage, union and commitments and Mercury is in your tenth house of father, authority figures, career, reputation, public role and life direction. These two areas of your life, your career and your marriage, may somehow be in conflict and you will be able to resolve it and see what are your priorities and how you can make things right now. But, this is nothing to worry about really.

On the 11th of April Venus enters Gemini and shines beautifully in your social eleventh house. Gemini is also a social sign and the eleventh house is the house of friendships, communities, groups of people, social circles, gatherings and social events. Venus is a planet of love, beauty, harmony, comfort, pleasures, and love relationships. You can expect something very loving and valuable now in your friend zone. A friend can become a lover during this time, a friend may introduce you to someone, to a new potential partner.

Those of you who are single will have many opportunities for connecting with someone who is really beautiful in every way, physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually. You may connect in a romantic way with someone from your community or your team. Those of you who have relationships will probably spend more time together with your partner and your friends. You will have good moments together. You both will be invited to certain gatherings, celebrations and events. You spend time with your partner who is also your best friend. Venus also makes a positive trine aspect with Pluto in your seventh house of relationships and this is very powerful, can bring big love into your life and show you how big your love is actually.

These are big love stories and also big transformations of your partnership, your marriage, your unions. But these are positive transformations now. It is a trine aspect and this is friendly energy with Venus. Your friends support your love relationship, your love choice and this means a lot to you or your friends remind you of the qualities of your love relationships. These things are very active this month in your life and you're reminded of the true value of a relationship. You are learning more about how to express your love towards others. Love resources are endless. They cannot be exhausted, only multiplied and expanded and you're spreading that awareness amongst others which gives you a sense of satisfaction and fulfillment.

Part 5
Leo Sex Life
In April

Dear Leo, your sex life is somewhat different this month in a way that your energy is directed differently. You feel it differently and you express it in a more artistic and subtle way. This is happening because of Mars in your twelfth house and Mars carries the energy of sexual drive. Mars doesn't really feel good in twelfth house, doesn't really feel comfortable. What is Mars planet of passion, action, proactivity and energy doing in the twelfth house of meditation, sleeping, resting and relaxation?

Mars can feel frustrated here. Mars doesn't sleep. Mars doesn't meditate. Mars is also in Cancer and Mars is in its fall when in Cancer. So, this sexual drive can feel a bit tamed, a bit imprisoned in some way and therefore you may feel a little bit frustrated or irritated, not knowing how to channel this energy. But, if you know what Mars in twelfth house in Cancer is good for, you can actually create a magic now. You can change your approach and try some different things now. Play soothing music, calming music, something atmospheric and sensual, slowly trigger your senses, create a poetic and romantic ambience. Create a loving atmosphere, calming and soothing, relaxing and inspiring.

Use lamps with subtle colors and lights.

Use massage as a way of relaxing and feeling your body. Massage can become the best sexual pleasure actually and it can be very healing as well, it can be meditative and pleasurable at the same time which is actually the perfect way to channel this energy this month. Massage stimulates you and relaxes your muscles and your whole body and when you are fully relaxed, you can recover your energy levels, you can improve your vitality and health and you can enhance the intimate pleasure.

You are enjoying different ways of exploring and experiencing senses and pleasures.

Sound of water can be very powerful now too since Mars is in Cancer which is a water sign and it's in the twelfth house which is ruled by Pisces, another Water sign. You can play water sounds in the background or find some relaxing music with sounds of water, sound of water drops perhaps. You can stimulate your sexual energy beautifully in this way. You can use essential oils and diffusers to fulfill the whole atmosphere with beautiful and healing natural smells.

So, these details are important now and you know how to make the most out of this energy this month. It's time to be creative and to connect health, pleasure and vitality, to connect the beauty of sexual expression with healing and with relaxing. You can have it all really. The key is in knowing how to use this energy when it's manifested in different ways.

Part 6

Leo Career & Purpose In April

Dear Leo, this area of your life is not resting and it doesn't seem like you will reach final stability as long as Uranus is here. Uranus is constantly activated through other transits and aspects and Uranus will be in your house of career until the spring of 2026. Of course, this doesn't mean that you won't have any stability in your career, in your professional world, but it won't be full stability. It will be shaken up from time to time because there are big awakenings and changes happening for you on that level. Your way of contributing to society is still going through big changes, transitions and upheavals.

This area of your life has been strongly affected ever since Uranus has entered Taurus in 2018. And this area of your life has gone through many changes already, especially between the end of 2021 and now, due to Eclipses in Taurus/Scorpio. This isn't over yet. Eclipses are still active here this year and the last one will happen in late October. So, you are definitely going through big shifts and changes, through big processes related to your life path, your career, your profession, your reputation, your contribution, your public image.

This month brings a lot of improvements and corrections and the next one brings renewals and new beginnings, expansions and beginning of the new cycle for you in your career. Jupiter will enter Taurus in the middle of May and this is a next twelve year cycle for you and your career, you and your life direction. Jupiter will be here one whole year, but we'll talk about it in the next month. You are now preparing for that expansion and new opportunities for expressing your talents, gifts and abilities. Mercury is in your tenth house of career and authority figures and it will be here all the way until the 11th of June due to its retrograde motion that starts on the 21st of April.

Expect signing contracts, documents, having conversations and meetings related to employment, career, new position, recognition, promotion. You may be talking in public. You may be exposed more than usual with Mercury here together with Uranus and North node. Venus is also here until the 11th of April and these first ten days of the month can bring you something harmonious and soothing in your professional life. Your qualities and values will be recognized. Once Mercury stations retrograde you will be reevaluating, questioning, revisioning your decisions and choices in career, in work that you do, in your contribution and in your relationship with authority figures.

You will have an opportunity to improve things here, to correct something, to make things right. You will have a second chance to make something, to come back to something you've started, something you've planned on doing, something that is left unfinished perhaps. You also have a lot going on in your ninth house. You have Eclipse here with Jupiter and this is very good for international connections, for work overseas, for work with foreigners, for traveling and working, for learning and studying.

You may be graduating or starting something that will bring you higher education and a higher degree. You can expect success in academic studies if you are studying or if you're just starting something. You are also using your skills in a way that can serve you thanks to Full Moon in your third house. Things related to marketing, advertising, social media, online business, publishing, writing, teaching, learning can bring you success and you can definitely show your qualities through these activities.

Part 7

How April Full Moon Will Influence Leo

Dear Leo, this Full Moon happens on the 6th of April in the sign of Libra illuminating your third house of younger brothers and sisters and those who feel like them, relatives, neighbors, local community, everyday connections and communications, short trips, local trips, learning, teaching, writing, reading, sharing information, news and messages, marketing, webinars, seminars, devices, vehicles, transport, driving, learning and developing skills, expressing yourself verbally, speaking, being socially active. This is a very dynamic placement, very social and intellectual too.

Full Moons are times of completions, endings, closures. These are times when things become known, revealed, disclosed, acknowledged, times when things come to an end or when things come to a fruition. This is the time of culminations and fulfillments. So, something may be revealed now between you and your siblings, something may be brought to light or you may be sharing some important information now with others. Expect news and messages from your brothers and sisters or about your brothers and sisters. These should be positive and uplifting messages. You may go on a short trip with your siblings and it can be emotional.

You are developing stronger relationships with others. You may connect with your relatives or your neighbors in a more significant way now. Something emotional may happen in your local community between people. This is Libra Full Moon and it has to do with relationships. So, it's all about communication with others now. It's how you communicate, how you express your thoughts, how you connect with others and how you influence each other in these relationships. Something can come to its full circle now with others.

Things are culminating in your social world and this can mean for example that you're finally going on that trip you've been trying to schedule for so long. Expect great conversations with others, intellectual conversations, conversations where you can understand each other, conversations that are full of mutual support and respect, conversations that are meaningful and that may be even business related in some cases since the ruler of this Full Moon is Venus and she's in Taurus in your tenth house of career and profession. You may finally be able and ready to say something you've been trying to say to others, something you've been planning to say or do. You can do it now.

Full Moon is time to do, say, acknowledge and release things you haven't been ready or capable of doing before. It's the time when you see something you haven't been able to see before. So, you may also see your thought patterns that you weren't able to recognize before. You have an opportunity to let go of certain thought patterns that are not serving you and to get over something that's been burdening your thoughts and perspectives. Words have huge power now too so make sure you know how to use your words, especially in your one-on-one conversations with people.

You may have a strong influence on others with your words, so make sure you use words and gestures that are uplifting, that are encouraging, that are comforting, that are awakening and sobering. It's also a great time for finishing some learning courses or some lessons you've been studying. This is also a house of learning and teaching and it may be a great time for bringing that course to an end and finishing learning some new skills or developing existing ones.

Use the energy of this Full Moon to connect with others in a true way, in a peaceful way, in a way that opens your heart gently and powerfully. Use your words and skills wisely. Find the right way to communicate with people and with yourself. Work on releasing those thought patterns that are outdated. Allow yourself to think differently. Practice mental exercises, mental discipline and see how you can consciously transform your way of thinking and expressing your thoughts with yourself and with others.

Part 8

How April New Moon Solar Eclipse Will Influence Leo

Dear Leo, this New Moon is a Solar Eclipse New Moon and it happens on the 20th of April in your fellow Fire sign Aries. This is the second New Moon in a row that happens in Aries and these themes have been strong and powerful for you since last month. Eclipses are powerful events, karmic events, life-changing moments that bring trajectory changes and destined goodbyes and hellos. This one may still not be that dramatic and intense, but it is the first Eclipse in 2023, and it's the first one in the series of Eclipses that will be happening in Aries/Libra in the next two years.

This happens in your ninth house of higher learning, higher education, higher mind, higher purpose, higher self and you're asked to aim high during this time. This is also the house of studying, learning, teaching, publishing, advertising, traveling, connecting with people from all over the world and expanding your visions, stretching your perception and widening your horizons. This is a placement of beliefs, ideals, ideas, religious views, legal matters, spiritual teachings and spiritual teachers. This is a house of wisdom and true knowledge, of seeking truth and meaning.

This New Moon happens on the last degrees of the sign of Aries and it can bring you endings and beginnings in these ninth house matters. The last time this series of Eclipses was active was back between the beginning of 2004, and the beginning of 2006, and also between the end of 2013, and the beginning of 2016. What big transitions and transformations were happening back then in your life? What did you learn during that time? What kind of lessons did you learn? What were crucial things that were active in your life?

Something that you missed to learn or comprehend back then will reappear now in order to be learned, understood and acknowledged. This doesn't mean that it will come back in the same shape and form. Lessons can repeat in many different ways. This is a great time for starting a learning program that can serve you in the long run. It's an amazing time for studying something new, for learning something new, for starting a spiritual journey or for starting a new cycle on your spiritual journey. This is coming for sure. You will have Eclipses here in the next two years and this is a time of transformation of your perception.

You may be learning and transforming your perspectives during your travels or through your connections with people who come from different cultures, countries, traditions, religions, nationalities, beliefs and different backgrounds. You are expanding your vision and you are very passionate about it. You have a necessary fire for these ninth house matters. This is Aries Eclipse and Aries energy is about the new beginnings, the courage to do things, taking risks, taking action, moving forward. It's about validation of the self. It's about who you are. It's about your awareness of who you are.

So, many of you will be on this journey of self-discovery, on this journey of gaining self-knowledge through spiritual teachings, through traveling, through connecting with all kinds of people in the world, through practicing spiritual discipline and through experiencing adventures and sharing your stories with people you meet on your journey. Your task is to discover the journey within you through experiencing the journey through everything that happens in your life. Your task is to gain spiritual freedom and you will definitely be supported on your way to do so. You are meeting amazing people, different people and you're starting to change your fixed opinions and fixed thought patterns. They're being purged by the fire of Aries in this Eclipse.

Part 9
Tarot Card Reading
For April

Dear Leo, your Tarot card for April is The Knight of Sword upright. This is a card of ambition, and it is action-oriented. It represents someone who is bold, daring, strong, and courageous. This is a card of great confidence and dynamism. The Knight of Swords knows what he wants, and he's got it all. He won't stop on his quest to the goal he aims toward. Nothing can stop him or disturb him. He is assertive and direct, focused and ambitious, daring and unstoppable. We see a young man in armor rushing forward with a sword in his hands. He rides a strong white horse with great speed, and the white color of the horse always represents purity of the heart and intellectual power.

His sword is high as he rides his mighty horse, which all represents clarity, positivity and determination. The Knight rushes forward without fear—he is fearless, and he is not really worried about dangers that might be in front of him. This card also represents a powerful movement, as we see that everything is moving in this card, and the Knight rides against the wind. We see the trees are bowed in the opposite direction of the Knight. Wind is strong in this card, and the element of Air is very important. The Knight of Swords is full of life and energy, and, once he starts moving toward his goals, nothing can stop him.

This card suggests that either you or somebody else in your life will play the role of this Knight. The Knight of Swords is impatient, though. He doesn't have time to stop and check if everything's right. He rushes toward his goal. You should be aware of this, too, and perhaps it is good if you do bring in a bit of patience because too much confidence is also not good. But, on the other hand, this card gives you such strong power, assertiveness, boldness, courage, drive, and ambition. You will have what you need in order to achieve what you want.

There's a victory in front of you, but don't rush blindly because this could lead you in the wrong direction as well. The Knight is determined to succeed no matter what, and he's not afraid of any possible challenges, but this could also make him totally unaware of the consequences of his actions as he's making his way toward his goals. So, be aware of these potential dangers with this card, and don't rush blindly into something. Do some preparation, do a fact-check, and then go after your goals. You have all the support that you need, but don't burn yourself out along the way either.

The Knight strongly believes that what he does is done with the best of intentions, that it is just and right, but he may make some mistakes along the way because he's not worrying about any kind of consequences. You may have to deal with someone who's like this in your life now, but you may also have amazing benefits through this as well if you know how to deal with this strong and powerful energy. The Knight is not really careful, but it doesn't mean that he's not right. When this card is pulled in a reading, it means that you have a green light to pursue your goals and ambitions, but you should also make sure that you know what you're doing and that you're not just blindly following your impulses.

You may also have a need to say what you mean without really thinking about the consequences of your words. You have a need to speak your truth no matter what. This is sometimes good, but sometimes it is not. So, your awareness here is needed in order to estimate and evaluate when it's the right time to do something, when you can say the truth, to whom, and how. This card is great for competing. It is a card of victory. The question here is: What would you choose to do if you knew you could not fail in what you're doing?

Part 10

The Most Impactful Planet For Leo In April

Dear Leo, the most impactful and most meaningful energetic influence of planetary energies for you this month is the energy of the Moon. You have New Moon Solar Eclipse happening in your fellow Fire sign Aries and this is the second New Moon that happens in this placement highlighting your ninth house of truth and meaning, spiritual practice, metaphysical and esoteric teachings, higher education, higher knowledge, studying, learning, teaching, traveling, connecting with people from all over the world, exploring the world, going on adventures, changing your beliefs.

Something significant is happening for you in these areas of your life and this is just the beginning of the process that will be active in the next two years. You are expanding your vision. You are changing your perception. You are spiritually growing and you're gaining wisdom and freedom.

The Moon is one of the most influential planets in Astrology. Together with the Sun, it forms unity. The Sun and the Moon are two eyes, two lights, silver and gold, honey and milk, feminine and masculine, plus and minus. They are two energies that keep things in balance. They rule the night and the day. The Moon is all about maternal instincts; it is about emotions and different phases. It rules our moods and the shifts of our mind and heart. The Moon represents our need for security and stability. It rules our comfort zone, the things we're used to—it is our nest and our relationship with our mother but also with Mother Nature and with our inner Goddess and inner Mother regardless of our gender.

The Moon represents nurturing energy, caring energy, nourishing energy, and it is also associated with the mind and fluctuations of the mind. The Moon can make us overly emotional, overly reactive, easily provoked and irritated, and it can also make us compassionate, kind, gentle and friendly. It is always a reminder that we have to work with our emotions and channel them in the right way. The Moon represents people as well and their influence on us as individuals. It rules our daily life and daily habits, and it connects our brain and our belly, our mind and our heart, our nerves and our cells. It governs the rhythm of the body and our routines and habits.

The Moon quickly changes its phases. It moves from waning to waxing phase, and it affects the fluids and the water in our body; water symbolically always represents emotions, so these are emotional fluctuations, too. The Moon is also related to receptive energy, to the feminine principle, to instincts and intuition, rhythms and cycles. The Moon rules our digestive system and our eating patterns related to our emotions.

The Moon rules our reactions, the way we react, our unconsciousness and unconscious patterns, our relationship with the mother, our past, our past lives, our growing up, and our subconscious habits. It rules our memories and our feelings that are packed with those memories. The Moon also has a lot to do with our soul food, what feeds our soul. The Moon has always been related to dreams, beauty, and imagination, and it also rules fertility and pregnancy. The Moon represents our home and our family, our roots and our ancestors and it also rules our own space and our need for security.

In order to channel the energy of the Moon and Eclipse in the most constructive and empowering way, you should work with your beliefs and recognize your strongest beliefs. See what beliefs define you and what beliefs shape your whole world and reality. What are your beliefs about yourself? What are your beliefs about the world you live in? What are your beliefs about spirituality, about religion, about life, about experiences of life? You have an opportunity to renew and refresh your beliefs now and to understand how huge role beliefs play in everybody's life, how certain beliefs can transform whole life, how one certain belief can either imprison or liberate a person.

These kinds of things are important to understand in order to work with the energy of the Moon this month. Look at how emotionally attached you are to certain beliefs. What are you emotionally attached to? What kind of perspectives and ideals keep you emotionally imprisoned? What are the things you cannot let go of? What are the things you strongly hold on to? Emotional freedom is very important. Ask the Moon to help you release emotional attachments so that you can become emotionally mature and so that you can gain emotional freedom.

Imagine the campfire and the Moon in front of you. Imagine that you are in a beautiful place near the water and that there is a campfire and the Moon in front of you. Feel the connection between the fire and the Moon, the Eclipse in Aries. Feel that in your heart and carry this image with you in order to align with this energy in the most empowering way. You can draw an image of a campfire and the Moon near the water, or you can find some image and print it so that you can carry that with you. Enjoy this scenery and of course, if there is any chance that you can have this in real life, go for it and experience it directly. But if not, the image and visualization will work perfectly too.

Part 11

Healing Tips For Leo In April

- Go outside in the Sun each day whenever there is a sunny day and connect with the Sun. Find your perfect spot for the connection with the Sun and go there. Stand in the Sun and if you can, be naked. Find a place where you're alone. Find some spot where you can be naked in the Sun but if you cannot do this, no worries. You don't have to be naked. You can do it anyway. Stand in the Sun and ask the Sun to teach you its language. Ask the Sun to upload its alphabet into your consciousness. Ask the Sun to teach you the meaning of this alphabet and to teach you how to communicate with it in the right way. Tell the Sun that you are willing to learn and to manifest its highest expressions through yourself. Enjoy the Sun and enjoy the connection.

- While you're taking a walk, close your eyes from time to time and walk with your eyes closed for a couple of moments and then open your eyes and then again close them and walk for a little while with your eyes closed. Practice this while you're taking a walk outside in nature, through parks or on a flat surface where there is no traffic. Enjoy this exercise and have fun. Feel how it is to walk like this. Feel how you have no control in these moments and surrender each time a little bit. Enjoy your walk and the benefits of it.

- Feel yourself as if you are in a bubble. Feel this bubble around you all the time. Whatever it is that you are doing, be aware of this bubble. Feel how it carries you and how you carry it. Feel this bubble as your protective shield around you. Feel this bubble as something only you can see and feel. Feel this bubble as gentle and nurturing energy, as your cosmic parents who guide you and protect you all the time through thick and thin. Energize this bubble each day with your awareness and with your breathing. Feel how this bubble moves with you and breathes with you. Feel strong and invincible and connect with your protective shield. Enjoy, have fun and feel nurtured, guided and taken care of.

- Open your arms wide open with your palms turned upward. Feel the energy coming in through your palms. Feel how you are energizing and recharging your whole body through your palms. If you can, stand in the Sun and feel the light and warmth of the Sun piercing through your palms and stretching through your whole body but you can also do this wherever you want, in your room or during the night under the night sky or anywhere. Energy is always present and you feel how you're reloading and recharging yourself through your palms. Twist yourself. Turn around a couple of times from left to right in order to make the spiral of the flow of this energy and feel the spiral entering your palms and spiraling through your whole body. Enjoy the process.

- Salute nature every day. Every day when you wake up, salute the four elements and nature, salute everything in nature and be aware that everything is alive. Be aware of the aliveness of nature during the whole day every day. Salute flowers and plants, trees and the grass, insects and animals but also rocks & stones. They are also very much alive. There is huge energy inside of them. Salute their patience and endurance and ask rocks and stones to teach you some of those things. Salute water, rivers, oceans. Salute the stars and planets. Salute the Sun and the Moon. Salute all other beings and entities that we're unable to detect and notice with our naked eye.

Part 12

How To Use April Energies In The Best Possible Way

- Celebrate something each day. Each day find one thing to celebrate and really feel the joy. Make a celebration time. There is something to celebrate every day. Once you start doing this you will see how many things there are to celebrate in life.

- Imagine each day of your life as if it is a really unique and irrevocable day in your life. Feel each day as a universe for itself. Say this out loud each day when you wake up in your own way to affirm this and really feel this and live this as an ultimate truth. Spend your day knowing this and feeling this and living this.

- Learn something new. Read something new. Take a book you've never read so far each day and open it randomly and read a new paragraph, new sentence, new thought. See what it has to tell you. See what it delivers to you. Learn new motions. Learn new skills. Learn new words each day, new words of your native language and new words of other languages too. Learn about the meaning of symbols each day. Have fun, educate yourself, improve your knowledge and enjoy.

- Stretch your time. Whenever you are in a hurry, stop and start doing things slowly. Do not hurry. It will only make you have to hurry even more and time will shrink. Instead, take your time. It doesn't matter that time ticks away on the clock. Take your time to do things normally just as you would if you haven't been in any kind of hurry. Test this experiment and you will see that time will actually stretch and you will have more time to finish and do everything you have to. So, don't hurry if you are late. Take your time. If you generally feel that you have no time for many things during the day, take longer time for everything that you're doing. Do one thing at a time and don't think about the next thing you have to do. Just be in that present activity where you already are. Remember, take your time and don't hurry.

- Practice Reclined Twist pose. Do your research about it. See what it's good for. See how it's done and start practicing it. This pose is very powerful and it relaxes you immediately. It has many benefits and it really feels good doing it. Enjoy.
